Jami Hafner joins SOSH Architects as a Project Coordinator. She is a recent graduate of Clemson University where she earned a Bachelor of Arts in Architecture degree with a minor in Sustainability. As a former intern with SOSH, Jami assisted on various projects at Hard Rock Hotel & Casino and the Historic Boardwalk Hall renovations in Atlantic City, NJ. These projects gave her the experience to work in different phases of design and construction administration, as well as the multifaceted nature of architecture. Jami currently resides in Egg Harbor Township, NJ.

“We are excited to welcome Jami back to our team,” said SOSH Principal Kimberly McCarron. “In addition to her technical skills, Jami has proven herself to be an adept team player. We have no doubt that her enthusiasm, inquisitive nature, drive and ambition will prove to be invaluable assets to SOSH.”

Megan Katapodis, also an Egg Harbor Township, NJ resident, joins our architectural team as a summer intern. Megan is entering her sophomore year at New Jersey Institute of Technology’s College of Architecture and Design and is working towards a Bachelor of Architecture degree with a minor in Sustainability. In addition to her undergraduate studies, Megan is also a member of the American Institute of Architecture Students, and the NJIT Art Club; and has an affinity for ceramics and sketching. Outside of work and school, Megan enjoys staying active with sports like surfing and snowboarding.

“Our summer internship program is an important step in each student’s professional development,” said Mark Petrella, SOSH Principal. “We are proud to welcome Megan to our team this summer, and look forward to watching her grow and contribute to our practice.”
