SOSH ARCHITECTS ANNOUNCE NEW HIRES, JORDAN EGAN AND JOHN REICHARD

(Atlantic City, NJ) – SOSH Architects, an award-winning architecture, interior design, and master planning firm, is pleased to announce the addition of Jordan Egan and John Reichard to its team.

Jordan Egan joins SOSH Architects as an interior designer. A graduate of Drexel University's Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts & Design, Jordan earned a Bachelor of Science in Interior Design in 2021 and has gained considerable work experience through previous internships at other New Jersey and Pennsylvania design firms. His passion for design and excellence, thoroughness, and proficiency in BIM and other 3D and design software will be an asset to the firm's ongoing hospitality and commercial projects. In his new position, Jordan will collaborate with the design team on material selection and all phases of design and apply his extensive background in planning and rendering to bring cutting-edge designs to life.

As SOSH Architects' new Construction Administration Coordinator, John Reichard will work alongside the firm's project managers to ensure design integrity and quality is maintained during the construction phase of projects. His keen attention to detail, paired with his previous work experience as a code official, will complement the construction administration services that the firm provides its clients. With a focus on quality, teamwork, and safe practices, John has a proven record of dependability and dedication to certifying the timely completion of projects. John holds a Bachelor of Science in Construction Management with a minor in Business from Lamar University.

"It is with great enthusiasm that we welcome Jordan and John to our team," said John DeRichie, Principal at SOSH Architects. "Each brings his own unique skill set and talent, which will certainly enhance the breadth and quality of services SOSH offers our clients and contribute to the continued success of our firm."

Jordan and John are the latest additions to SOSH Architects' staff. The firm is dedicated to the continued expansion of its team, and to providing professional growth and mentoring opportunities for both new and seasoned staff.
